OPTICAL ALLUSIONS

Inspired by the beauty of Arctic environs, these faceted dressing-table accessories by designer Jo Sampson are clearly gorgeous.

In her newest collaboration with Waterford, designer Jo Sampson imbues crystal décor with a brilliant modern aesthetic. Take the Glacia Collection (above), an assemblage of dressing table accessories inspired by crystalline Arctic landscapes. Polished surfaces, gold and brushed white satin metal accents, and textures like rich suede lining in a jewellery box and the silk cord of a perfume atomizer make pieces inviting to the eye and the touch. While thoroughly opulent, the collection is designed, as Sampson says, “to be lived with daily and to inspire a new relationship with the home environment.” The Jo Sampson Studio Collection for Waterford also includes the London Collection of crystal desktop and office accessories, and the Elysian Collection of stemware.
